MY LORD, AND GENTLEMEN,

THE present Publication, intended for the Information and Utility of the Inhabitants; as well as of strangers resorting to this Metropolis, cannot be dedicated to any, with so much propriety, as to you, My Lord and Gentlemen, to whom the present generation owe much for your spirited attention to the Police and Preservation of good Order in the City, and to the Promotion of every public good; and to whom future ages will look back with venerable respect, while they contemplate the great and grand Improvements now carried on, and that the magnificient Buildings of the new College for the University of Edinburgh, long and justly celebrated as the first seminary of Learning in the world, were begun during your administration: To yourselves this must afford a most pleasing reflection; and this opportunity of professing my great respect for a Magistracy and Council, so highly deserving the approbation of your fellow citizens, yields a pleasure truly sincere to,

MY LORD, AND GENTLEMEN,

Your much obliged, most obedient,

And very humble servant,

P. WILLIAMSON.

 P. WILLIAMSON continues to print Advertiſements, Shop Bills, Burial Letters, &c. on the moſt reaſonable terms: when employed to Print Burial Letters, he delivers them for One Halfpenny each.

To prevent miſtakes, all Letters from the General penny-poſt office are marked with a ſtamp, either paid or unpaid: And the public are hereby authorized to detain thoſe not marked.

JUST publiſhed, an Abſtract of the new Act of parliament for Notes, Bills, and Receipts, which took place the firſt of Auguſt 1791, price Twopence, and ſold by P Williamſon, at his General penny poſt office, Luckenbooths.

Likways are ſold, Types and Ink for marking Linen, which will ſtand waſhing and boiling till the Cloth is wore out.

The public will obſerve

THAT the great Trouble and Expence the compiller of this work is at in collecting the names and places of abode of each Inhabitant puts it out of his power to publiſh a new Directory every year. But if the citizens were attentive to give in their names to the publiſher, it would add much to their advantage, and leſſen the expence of this publication. and put it upon a Footing uſefull to the pu chaſers who are in daily need of it.

And have found the good effect from it theſe Twenty years paſt, by the plain Direction therein given of all the People in buſineſs private and public within a Mile of the City of Edinburgh. Leith, &c. By which arangement the perſon wanted, can be found out with little trouble or enquiry after them, as you have the ſtreets, ſquares, wynds, Cloſſ.s, Lanes, &c pointed ou', with the Number of each houſe of ſuch as have them numbered.
